To whom it may concern,

I am writing this letter on behalf of Anastasia Anisimova. I met Ms. Anisimova in the fall of 2016, when she did a practicum class in my classroom. During the spring of 2017, she completed her student teaching internship with me.

During the 2016 – 2017 school year, Ms. Anisimova displayed all the qualities of an effective teacher, as well as those of a valuable member of a teaching team. She is very intelligent and curious; she asks questions and does her research. When material was new to her, I was always impressed with how she not only learned it quickly, but dug in and found connections to her past experiences and/or connections that would be interesting to the students. Anastasia makes learning relevant and fun. She is hardworking, and very caring towards her students.

Another great asset is her rapport with parents and coworkers. Ms. Anisimova was always willing to make time to meet with parents to address any concerns, and she was very diligent about updating grades, the class website, and our Google classroom materials. In addition, Ms. Anisimova went out of her way to not only make connections with other staff members in the building, but to assist in whatever way she could. During her year at Teeland, Ms. Anisimova assisted with various after-school events, was on a fundraising committee for a co-worker, and was always willing to cover in other classrooms, if needed.

Most importantly for me, Ms. Anisimova always has the best interest of the students at heart. She takes the time to not only learn students' names, but will know what is important to each student. Ms. Anisimova treats each student as an individual and encourages each to be the best he or she can be.

Anastasia Anisimova is a hard worker who takes her responsibilities to heart; she always gives a 110%. You would be very lucky to have her as part of your teaching staff; I give her my highest recommendation.
